President's Corner

Greetings shipmates, The upcoming reunion shapes up as a good one. I have seen a lot of new members signing up. Mil has been doing an outstanding job of promoting the 2018 reunion in Reno and using his experience in getting a great rate at the hotel.

I was privileged to be at the dedication of the memorial to the USS Coral Sea at Mt. Soledad in May. Thanks again to Mil for being a gracious host to Clarence Neander, John Ranson, Sam Meeks, and myself. Special thanks for Sam Meeks daughter for being the photographer for the day.

My granddaughter joined the Navy in June, making her the third generation of Addkison who were members of America's Finest Fighting Force. Wish her well and God Speed.

The reunion pins came in and I must say they look great. They will be in the welcome package

39th Annual Reunion USS Lexington Tour Sign-up.

All shipmates are invited to tour the USS Lexington (CV-16) while attending the Coral Sea Reunion in Corpus Christi.

Our tour will be Friday, 6 October, beginning at 10 a.m. The cost is $30 per person and includes round-trip bus transportation from the hotel.

During the 1980's the U.S. Navy realized that keeping its last remaining World War II Essex Class aircraft carrier in service was becoming too expensive and that the USS LEXINGTON should be replaced by a more modern ship. In 1990, the Secretary of the Navy announced that the USS FORRESTAL would replace the USS LEXINGTON as the Navy's training carrier.

Given Corpus Christi's long history with the Navy and naval aviation in particular, a task force was formed to bring the "Blue Ghost" to the city. The city council endorsed a $3 million dollar bond sale to finance the project. Although in stiff competition with several other communities, LEXINGTON was awarded to

From the very first day of operation as a naval aviation museum, the USS LEXINGTON has remained totally self-sufficient! The Museum has relied solely on revenues generated from grants, donations, admissions, ship's store sales, special events, and the youth overnight program.

These revenues have covered all expenses not only to operate and maintain the ship but also to fund all capital improvements as well. Continue your Navy adventure...tour the USS Lexington at our 39th Annual Reunion.

the Corpus Christi team.

On 29 January 1992, LEXINGTON arrived at Naval Station Ingleside and became a permanent Texas resident. On 17 June she was towed to her final berth on North Beach.

Salty Humor

Do you realize that in about forty years we'll have millions of old ladies running around with sagging tattoos and pierced navels? Now THAT'S scary!

Chaplain's Corner

Dear Shipmates,
 Like many of you, I have now been retired longer than I served on active duty. Years ago, if I had met someone who fit this category I would have thought (privately in my mind of course!) that this is one old, very old dude. So now, I have to own and wear that judgment . . . I, too, am the "old dude"! Being older does not have to be like a prison sentence, though, as you know. We may be slower but we still get there because we motivate ourselves around more wisely. We may not know everything, but we have learned we don't have to know everything . . . we have grandchildren to fill us in on what we need to know! Especially in how to program the TV remote control. Speaking of the grand kids, if they will sit still long enough, we can teach them a thing or two about life, lessons we learned during our military service days. Things like teamwork, discipline, and hard work. Things like looking out for your shipmate, respecting those who have authority over you, and looking sharp in your uniform. Things like "yes ma'am" and "yes sir". Things like standing up when a lady or an older gentleman come into the room. Yes, if they will sit still long enough they can learn a thing or two because

A New Recruit Joins Our Navy Family.

Our Association's very own president, Wayne Addkison, can be doubly proud of family achievements this summer. As a follow-up to his son's Navy service aboard the USS Theodore Roosevelt (CVN-71) from 1992 to 1996, his granddaughter has enlisted in the US Navy as well! Taylor Addkison "signed up" on June 19, 2017. She'll be reporting for basic training soon. Wayne's son worked on the "Teddy's" elevators and mustered out as a 3rd Class Petty Officer. He now runs his own elevator inspection company.

Secretary's Corner

Greetings Shipmates, All plans are set for the 2017 reunion. Time is getting short. Contact me ASAP with your registration form. Don't forget to also complete the tour form if you wish to go aboard USS Lexington. Please see the article elsewhere in this issue regarding the plaque dedication at Mt. Sole-dad. Indeed, it was a great event.

The Midwest Spring Fling for 2018 will be in Dayton, Ohio. We're planning to contract a hotel close to Wright-Patterson AFB. The US Air Force Museum is there and it's a must see. Dayton has many other attractions also. Complete details will be in the Dec., 2017 issue of "Sea Breeze". Lastly, a reminder regarding the mailing label on "Sea Breeze"; if your dues are lapsed, the expiration date is in red. We're planning on purging the roster soon. We do not want to lose any members. If you're in need, please let me know. Any Shipmate who is age 80, or born prior to 12/31/1932, need not pay dues. This is indicated as 80+. However, any donation to the Association is greatly appreciated.

See you at Corpus Christi!

Fair winds & following seas!

Wake Island...1941.

Wake Island is a small island about a mile long and wide found in the south central Pacific Ocean. Located on the island was an airstrip large enough to facilitate carrier planes and serve as a fuel depot.

In December 1941, shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Japanese assaulted Wake Island with carrier planes and hundreds of land forces. Our courageous marines fought desperately to hold this island against tremendous odds. Our marines were estiimated to be outnumbered at least 100 to 1.

A U.S. warship convoy was already sailing toward Wake Island. It had already engaged in enemy dog fights lasting less than an hour before the enemy withdrew their aircraft.

Our warships were still far away from Wake Island, and our gallant marines fought on. They were never defeated, but were so badly out-gunned they had to watch the

USS Coral Sea Plaque Unveiled at Mt. Soledad.

The memorial plaque wall at Mt. Soledad National Veterans Memorial has been enhanced by the official placement of our USS Coral Sea plaque. The plaque is shown bottom center in the photo at right. Association members and officers instrumental in completing this project were Past President Mil Phillips, Secretary John Ranson and Treasurer Clarence Neander. In addition to President Wayne Addkison, Association member Sam Meeks, a radioman aboard Coral Sea from 1960-62, was present at our plaque's unveiling. Meek's daughter, Jennifer McDaniel, served as the official Coral Sea photographer for the day. We extend our heartfelt thanks to Jennifer for her support and assistance!

 when we get to Corpus Christi. I have been talking with the presidents of the USS Midway and USS Roosevelt associations about a combined reunion in 2019 aboard the USS Mid-

Japanese flag being raised on Wake. Also, our marines had expended virtually every resource on the island and had no way to replenish their ammunition and weapons.

The U.S. convoy of warships continued on toward Wake when, suddenly, our radio operators began screaming throughout the ship, "Abort mission! Abort mission! Abort mission! Abort mission! All ships abort mission now!" All ships immediately corrected to a more easterly heading.

The yardarm signal lights were also flashing the same message:

a-__ b___... o___r.. t-__

n_ . The message was flashed over and over, then after 6 repetitions, the signal lights flashed a long "i.. x--" which means "execute immediately."

Every person on board, from Admiral down to seamen, were asking, "Why, why, what about our marines?" Officers and enlisted alike were overcome as this question was repeated throughout the night with no answer. Compliance with this order was never in question, however.

To minimize escalating rumors, a reasonable explanation had to come quickly. The convoy commander soon revealed the reason for the decision: "Everyone and everything on the island had fallen into enemy hands and further effort to save them would be futile."

Most of us never learned the complete truth. Rumors were that Wake Island had no survivors. All U.S. equipment had been destroyed. And that the convoy com-

Treasurer's Corner

Hello Shipmates,
As summer winds down, we are looking forward to the annual reunion next month in Corpus Christi, TX. while also thinking back to Armed Forces Day - May 20th - when we attended the dedication of the USS Coral Sea Commemorative/Memorial plaque at the Mt. Soledad National Veterans Memorial in La Jolla, (San Diego) CA. It was a wonderful, moving ceremony on a clear warm day, overlooking the beautiful Pacific where Coral Sea spent most of her service time. The event was attended by 30 plus shipmates, family and friends. We were honored to have former Coral Sea commanding officer RADM. George Aitcheson (Ret.), C/O 1 Mar.'77 to 3 Jun.'78, join us. Our Plaque joins over

5,000 others honoring active and veteran service members, air and ground units, naval ships, three presidents, celebrity service members and last but not least Bob Hope. Many Thanks to Lt. Cdr. Brad Webster, C/O and Lt. Jose "Joe" Salazar, X/O of the U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corp, Coral Sea Division for providing a

Coral Sea Cadets Recognized for 2016 Performance.

Chief Richard Satchell reports that the Coral Sea Division of the US Naval Sea Cadet Corps has been recognized for superior teamwork and exemplary performance, earning a Certificate of Honor for 2016. Achieving this recognition requires focused dedication and discipline between unit leadership and cadets. It is the single highest honor that a Sea Cadet division can achieve. The Coral Sea Association extends a hearty Bravo Zulu to our Sea Cadets!

Treasurer's Corner...

Cadet Color Guard, They did a wonderful job and are a great example of our Navy's future.

A special Thanks to Mil Phillips for his "Boots on the Ground" work to make the dedication and luncheon a success. Wouldn't have happened without you Mil!

Thanks to all who attended and many thanks to all our shipmates and the Midway Museum, whose contributions, made the plaque a reality.

Wake Island...

mander had been severely reprimanded for the aborted action.

But why would Japan be so concerned about this tiny island? Geographically, it was very important because it was only about 500 miles from the Japanese occupied Marshall Islands, and within aircraft bombing and strafing range. Controlling Wake Island was simply a matter of removing this threat from the north.

The U.S. again regained control of Wake Island in 1945.

Chaplain's Corner...

we know a thing or two.

And, of course, we can pray for this younger generation. They will be headed back to school very soon and they will have many challenges. We can pray that those who have influenced their lives (including their veteran grandpa!) have made a lasting impression on them. And, hopefully, someday they, too, will raise their right hand to swear allegiance to the United States of America and defend her from all enemies.

God bless you all!
